

CERTIFICATE OF ACCOMPLISHMENT

iversity hereby attests that according to the criteria set by the course instructor,

Kelvin Ayemhenre

has successfully completed the following course:

Towards Decent Work in Global Supply Chains

A multi-disciplinary online course combining expertise from the world of work with cutting-edge academic research. The course aims to develop the users' knowledge and analytical skills on labour issues in global supply chains, including main gaps in the regulatory framework. It also discusses the most recent regulatory measures and trade union strategies to achieve work with dignity.

Timeframe: November 2019 to December 2019
by Mark Anner

Grade: A

MARK ANNER

PENNSTATE

About the Global Labour University & Penn State University

The GLU is a network of trade unions, universities, labour-support foundations and the ILO to deliver Masters Programmes. The Center for Global Workers' Rights at Penn State University, which is part of the GLU, promotes scholarly research and scholar-practitioner exchanges on issues affecting workers' rights.

About iversity

iversity.org is a platform for online courses where instructors and universities from all over the world offer interactive academic courses. iversity ensures a high level of quality across its offerings in its effort to broaden the access to higher education online.

Please note:
This certificate does not affirm that the student was enrolled at the mentioned institution(s) or confer any form of degree or credit.